The historical reconstruction of the Regulations is available in the Guide (location is just prior to Part 191) in the following four tables.

- (a) Historical Reconstruction of Part 191.
- (b) Historical Record of Amendments to Part 191.
- (c) Historical Reconstruction of Part 192.
- (d) Historical Record of Amendments to Part 192.

AGA X69804, "Historical Collection of Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Regulations." It includes These tables include listings for the original version of Parts 191 and 192 and all their amendments, through Amdts. 191-15 and 192-93 (published September 15, 2003).

The Federal Register notices for the original Parts 191 and 192 and their amendments through 1994 are available at www.phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline/rulemakings/archived-pipeline-rulemakings. The Federal Register preamble to the amendments is included as well. This collection of all earlier amendments has been established as a readily accessible reference to supplement the Guide or to aid research activity. However, considering the electronic availability of amendments starting in 2004, refer to the Federal Register web site for later amendments. For amendments after 1994, the Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) provides a search page at www.phmsa.dot.gov/regulations/federal-register-documents.

EDITORIAL NOTES FOR THE HISTORICAL RECONSTRUCTION OF PARTS 191 AND 192

Part 191 became effective on February 9, 1970. Part 192 became effective on November 12, 1970. Subsequent amendments have been issued with some adding new sections and some amending pre-existing sections.

To aid the user in reconstructing the history of a particular section, the user is advised that the complete text of Parts 191 and 192 as originally issued, plus all amendments through 1994 are available at www.phmsa.dot.gov/pipeline/rulemakings/archived-pipeline-rulemakings. Amdts. 191-15 and 192-93, are contained in AGA X69804, "Historical Collection of Natural Gas Pipeline Safety Regulations." Otherwise, Refer to the Federal Register website for amendments after 1994. The Pipeline and Hazardous Materials Safety Administration (PHMSA) also provides a search page at www.phmsa.dot.gov/regulations/federal-register-documents.

Additionally, to aid the user, the following tabulations of amendments are provided.
